It is a real pleasure for the LAC NCP Network to have shared this year with you, which allowed us to consolidate the actions we have been carrying out since 2017.

Once again, we would like to acknowledge the work that all the National Contact Points of Latin America and the Caribbean develop every day in order to strengthen the institutional capacities of the Ministries, Councils or Agencies responsible for the public policies of Science, Technology and Innovation in the region.

We also explicitly recognise the researchers who are working, creating and researching to improve the living conditions of the population of the region.

We would also like to thank and acknowledge the trust that the European Commission, in particular the Directorate General for Research and Innovation, led by Ms. Cristina Russo and the team of Mr. Martin Penny, Mr. Luis Samaniego and Mr. Daniel Kiapes, have always placed in us.

During this year, together with science institutions, universities, research centres and delegations of the European Union in the region, we have carried out 28 workshops on the Horizon Europe programme, with the participation of 2,310 researchers, representatives of the academic sector and the private sector from the 30 countries of Latin America and the Caribbean.

Furthermore, we have strengthened the Network with the designation of 101 new National Contact Points in Argentina, Colombia, Ecuador, Mexico, and Uruguay, which allows us to close this year with 351 NCPs in the 18 areas of the Horizon Europe programme in 23 countries of Latin America and the Caribbean.

On behalf of the whole team, it is a pleasure to send you our best wishes, hoping to meet you in 2024 with all the strength and energy to continue developing actions that facilitate participation in the Horizon Europe programme.

Brussels hosted the 9th EU-LAC Senior Official Meeting on Science, Technology and Innovation

It was attended by delegates from 20 Latin American and Caribbean countries and 14 European Union countries. Cristina Russo, Director of Global Approach and International Cooperation in R&I at the European Commission and Martin Penny, Head of the International Cooperation Policy Unit at the European Commission were also present.

A review of the actions carried out in the framework of the 2021-2023 strategic programme was made and the 2024-2025 work plan was designed.

The JIRI SOM is based on 4 pillars: mobility, global challenges, research infrastructures and innovation.

The infrastructure pillar is coordinated by Uruguay. Its working methodology, based on regionally groups that meet periodically, was assessed as positive and it is expected that the global challenges and innovation pillars will adopt a similar roadmap seeking to dynamise the policy dialogue in these areas between the two regions. As for the mobility pillar, it will continue to work on the promotion of key exchange opportunities, such as the Marie Skłodowska-Curie and ERASMUS+ Actions.

Caribbean deepens cooperation in marine sciences

14-15 November, Barbados

The first workshop on marine science cooperation between Europe and the Caribbean, organised by the European Commission and the Ministry of Industry, Innovation, Science and Technology of Barbados, was held in Barbados, with the participation of 75 experts both in person and virtually. The objective of the workshop was to exchange on the opportunities, needs and differences in marine research and cooperation for the Caribbean region.

Welcoming remarks were made by the Minister of Industry, Innovation, Science and Technology of Barbados, Hon. Davidson I. Ishmael, and Cristina Russo, Director of Global Approach and International Cooperation in R&I at the European Commission.

The discussion was based on the four main challenges identified in the “EU-Caribbean study on marine scientific cooperation”: community resilience and climate change; healthy ecosystems for SDG 14; building societal trust in the oceans; and ocean observation for governance.

The block on International Cooperation in the Horizon Europe programme was led by Luis Samaniego-Moffre, Directorate for Global Approach and International Cooperation in R&I, European Commission.

In turn, the European research and innovation strategy was presented, as well as the funding possibilities within the framework of the Horizon Europe programme and the regional funding mechanisms for the development of R&D capacities in the Caribbean region. The coordinator of the LAC NCP Network, Claudia Romano, presented the Horizon Europe programme and the participation of Caribbean countries in it, as well as the work that the Network has been carrying out since its creation.

United Kingdom joins the Horizon Europe Programme

Prepared by the European Commission

As of 1 January 2024, the United Kingdom becomes an associated country of Horizon Europe. Its researchers will be able to participate in this EU research and innovation programme on the same terms as researchers from other associated countries and will have access to Horizon Europe funding.

Organisations based in the UK will be able to participate as beneficiaries on the same terms as those based in the EU and countries already associated to Horizon Europe.

This includes the following programmes under the Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions:

- Postdoctoral Fellowships
- Doctoral Networks
- Staff exchanges
- Co-funding of regional, national and international doctoral and postdoctoral programmes (COFUND)
- MSCA and Citizens, including European Researchers' Night
- Other coordination and support actions

In the previous EU framework programme for research and innovation, Horizon 2020, the UK was one of the best performing countries in the Excellent Science part of the programme, which included MSCA. UK-based organisations

- participated in 31% of MSCA projects
- accounted for 15% of all MSCA participations
- received €1.16 billion between 2014 and 2020 under MSCA
- attracted almost 67,000 researchers

Erasmus+ and MSCA – Webinars for institutions, students and researchers from LAC

27-29 November

Three webinars on Erasmus + and the Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions were held with the aim of bringing these opportunities closer to researchers, university rectors, students and professors from Latin America and the Caribbean.

Bruno Castro and Gerard Bros, from the Directorate-General for Education, Youth, Sport and Culture of the European Commission, were the moderators of these workshops.

Colombia: MCAA Latam Conference 2023: Scientific Cooperation in Latin America

26-28 October

The conference was organised by the alliance between the Andean and Caribbean Chapter of the Marie Skłodowska Curie Alumni Association, EURAXESS and the Colombian National Contact Points Network for Marie Skłodowska Curie Actions.

The work being done by Colombia in the Marie Skłodowska-Curie Actions is especially highlighted, emphasising the role of Catherine Fonseca, Coordinator of International Cooperation Projects, Universidad Tecnológica de Bolívar and Laura Peña, NCP MSCA.

It was held in hybrid mode and was attended by around 80 people in person, including Latin American researchers from the Marie Curie Alumni Association, managers of internationalisation of research and scientific cooperation, representatives of the MSCA NCP Network, local teachers and researchers, and other actors such as the Chambers of Commerce of Cartagena and Bucaramanga. More than 200 people were connected to the broadcast for both days of the event.

The day featured panels, practical workshops, presentations of research progress and results, as well as recommendations for proposal writing.

The launch of the Andean-Caribbean Chapter of the Marie Curie Alumni Association was made official, which will function as an integration mechanism to connect Latin American researchers, to promote scientific debate around regional challenges and to serve as a support network for academic and non-academic staff wishing to apply for one of the MSCA's modalities of participation.

Below we share a series of support materials about the Horizon Europe ProgramGuide:

Your Guide to Intellectual property Management in Horizon Europe

The purpose of this guide is to spotlight critical aspects and novelties related to Intellectual Property (IP) management in the context of collaborative research and innovation projects funded under the European Union’s current Framework Programme for Research and Innovation “Horizon Europe” (2021-2027). It does not claim to be exhaustive. The IP rules of Horizon Europe are built to a large extent on the regulations established by the previous Framework Programme “Horizon 2020”. Therefore, this guide complements the existing guide “Your Guide to IP in Horizon 2020”.
