

The Starting Point

Where are we today?

On the path to a more efficient management

Better information for the Parliament

Improvement of the budget structure and simplification of rules and procedures

Payment predictability and treasury modernization

Incorporation of technology to improve processes

Specific structure and new capabilities

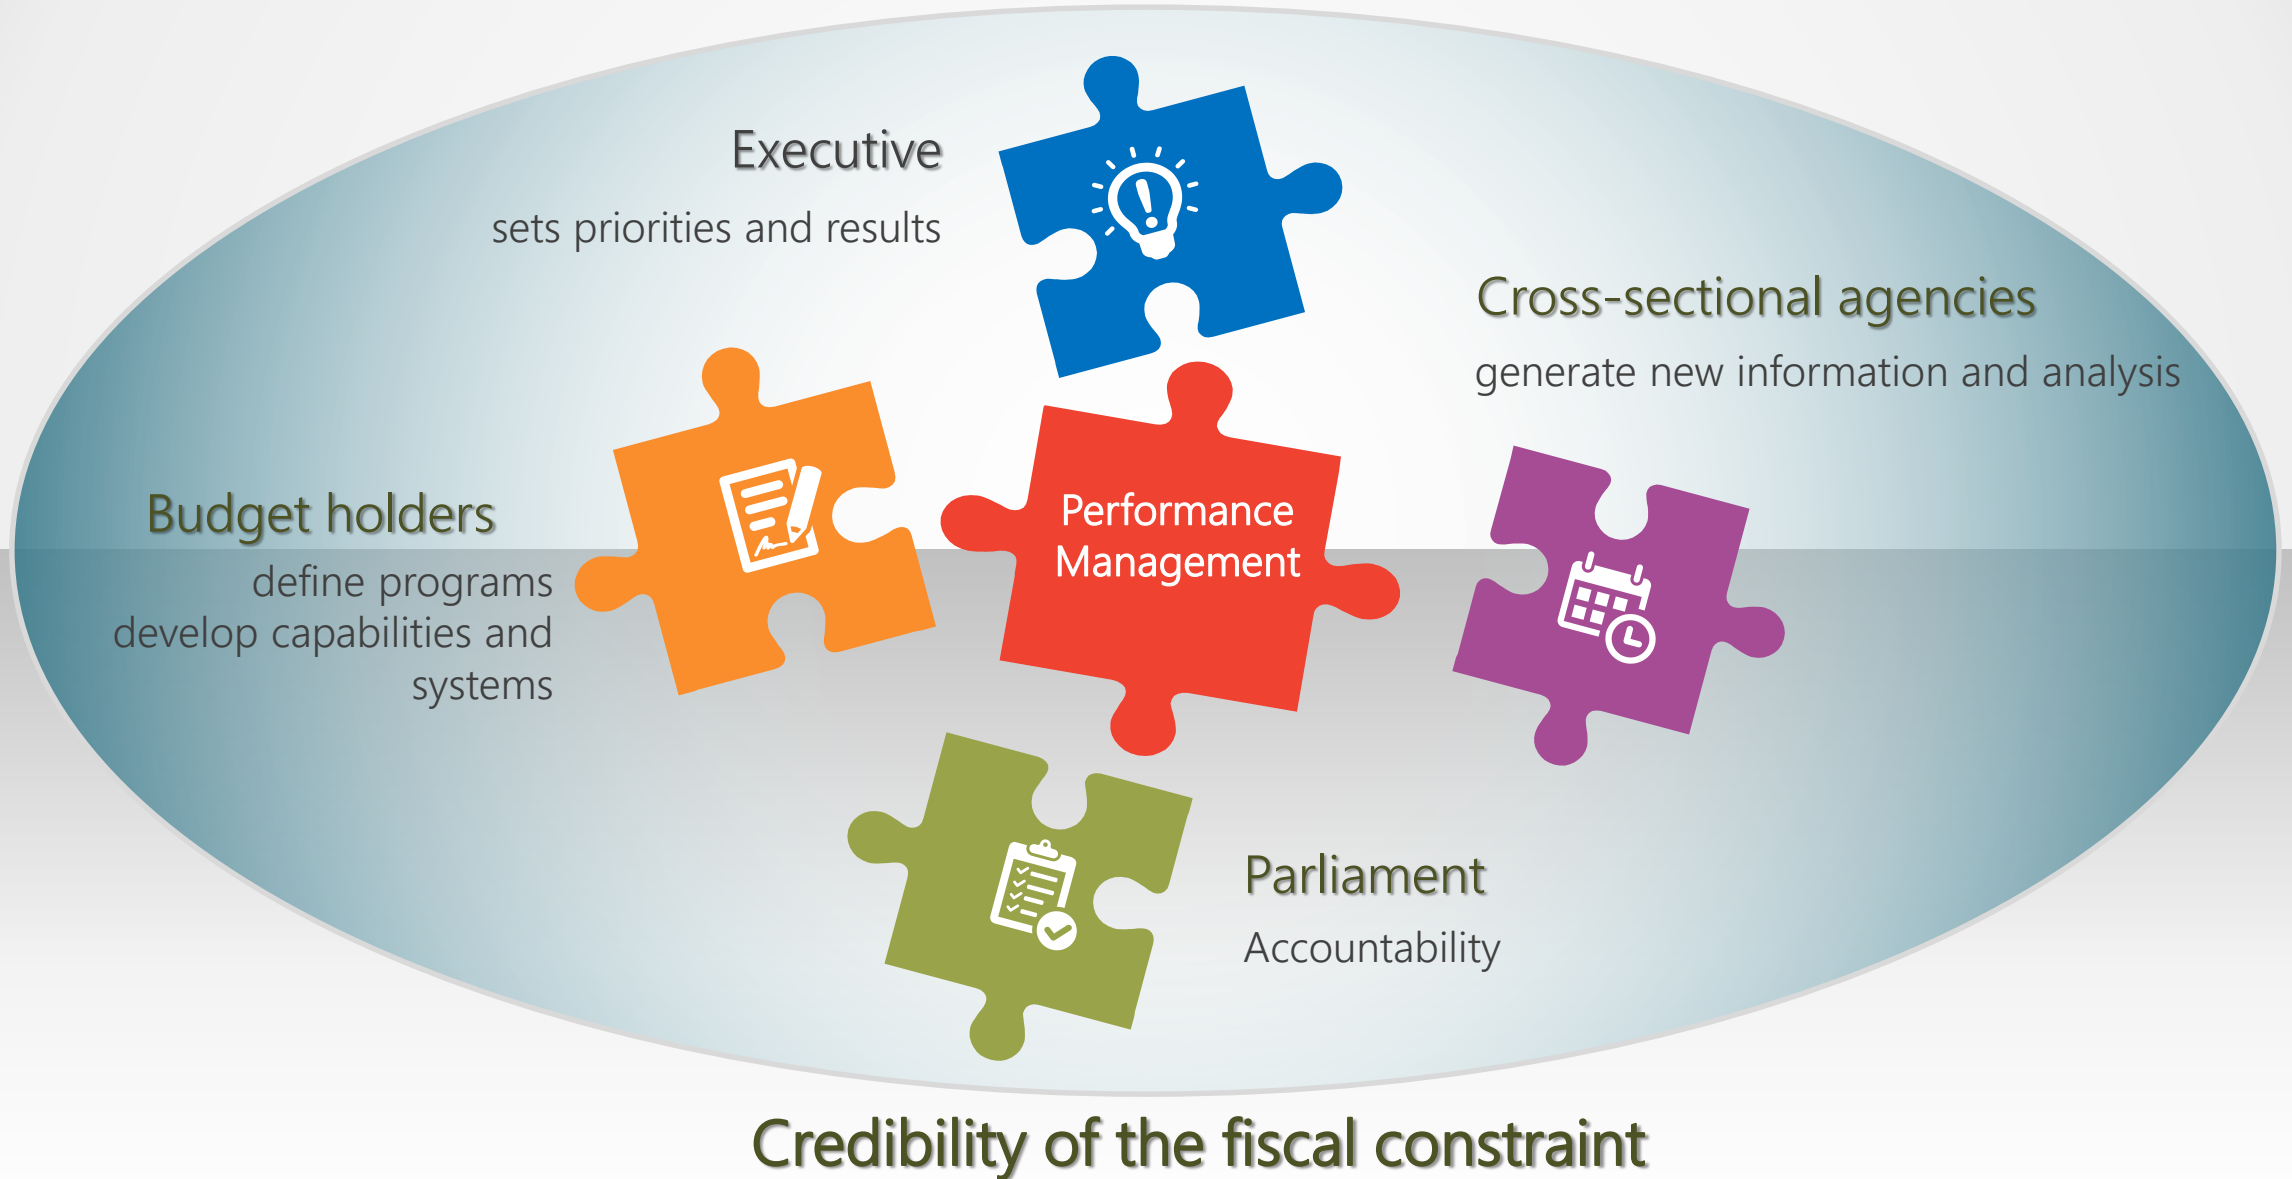

Integration of fiscal strategy and debt management.

Linking of budgetary credits with the fiscal result

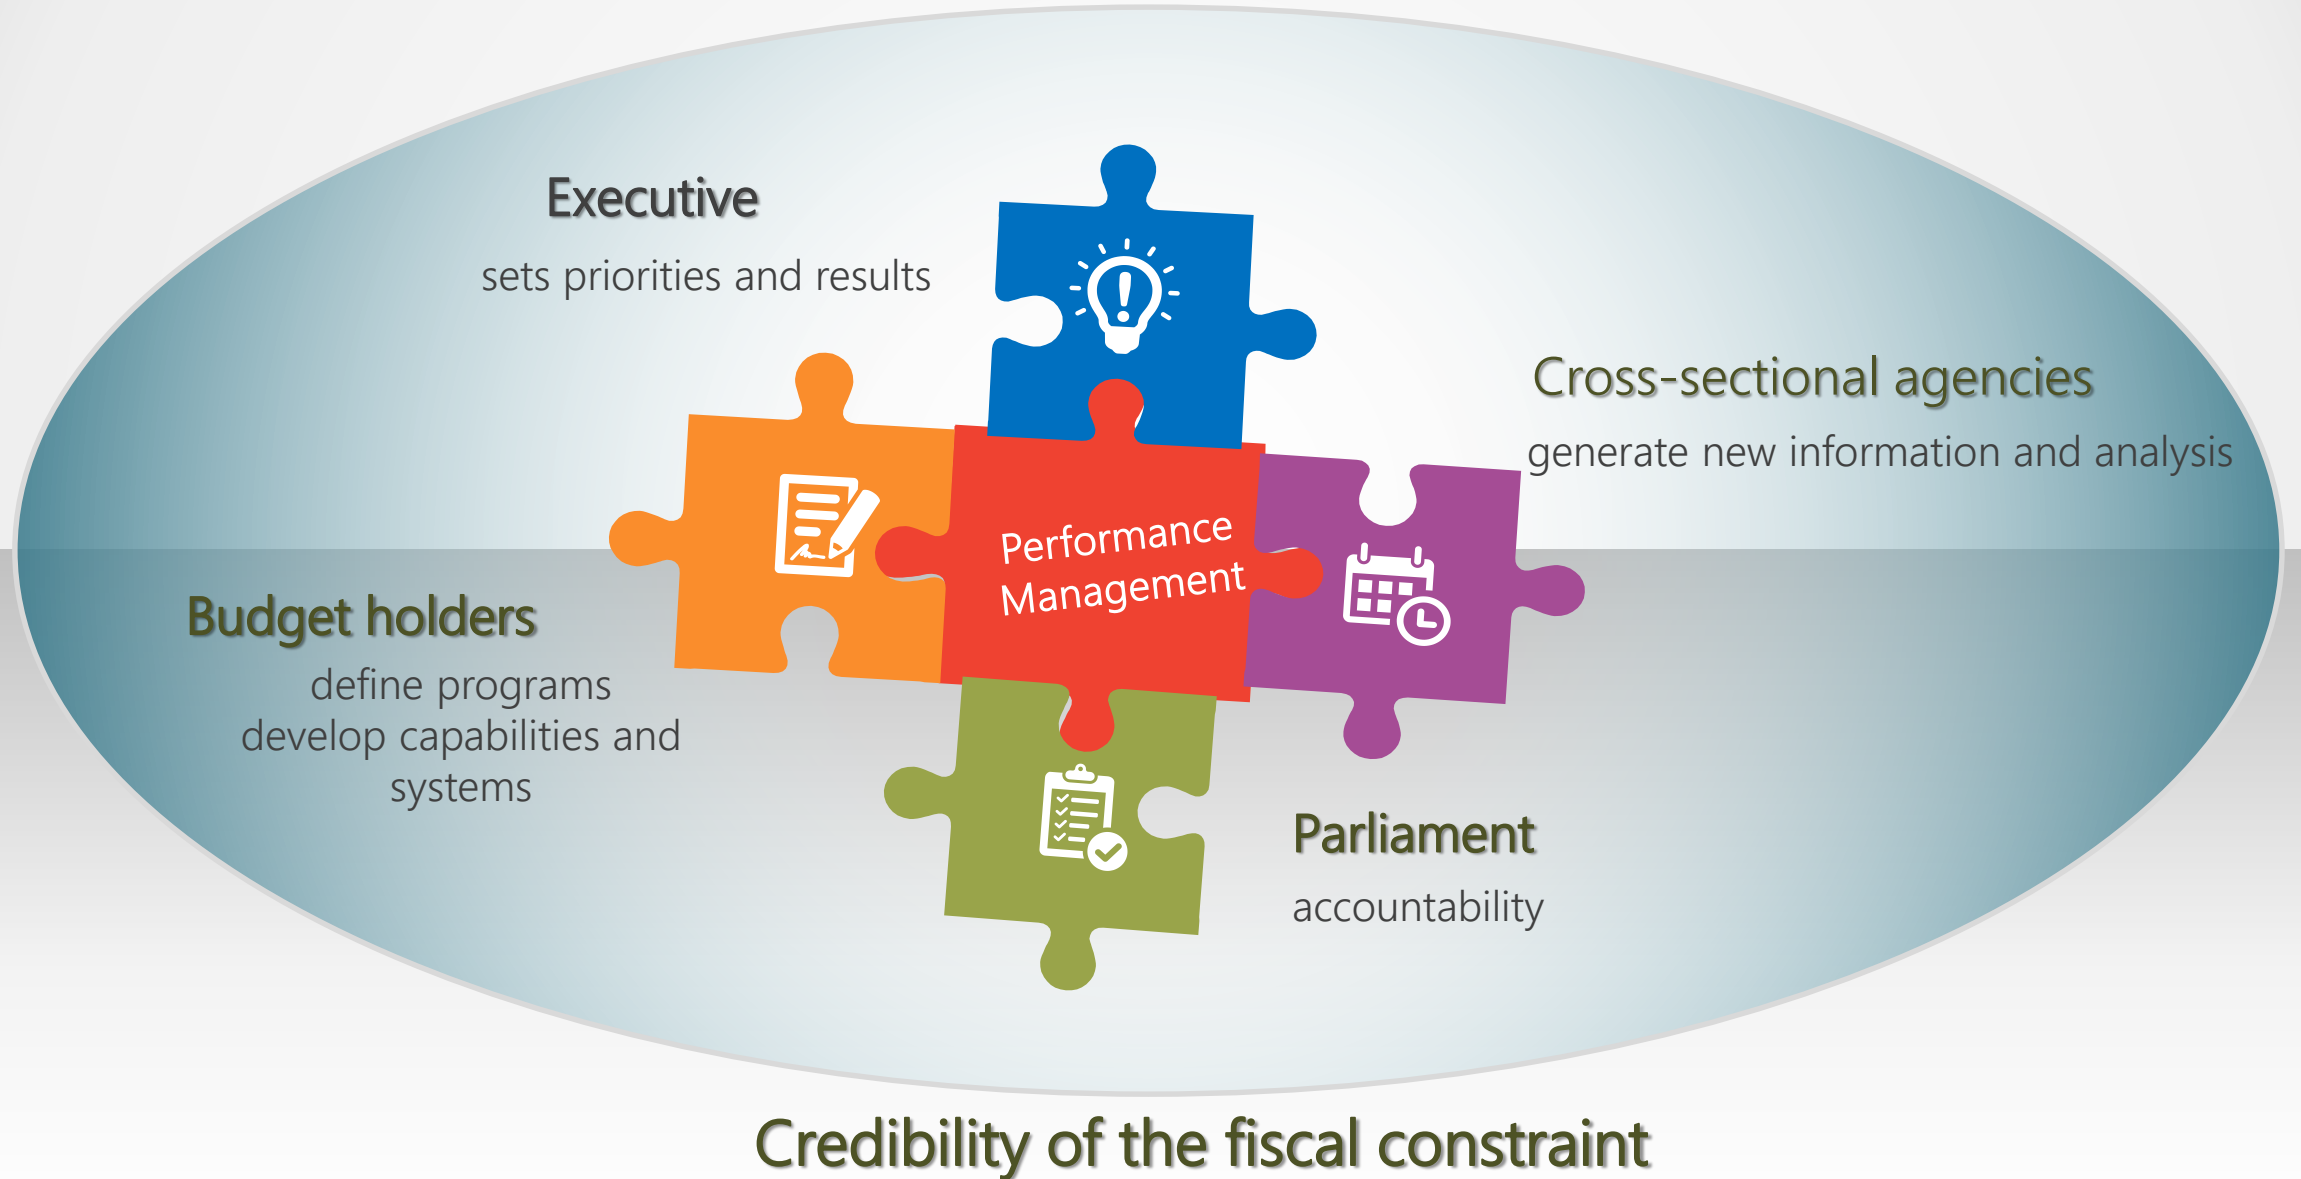

Budget integrated into a macroeconomic and fiscal framework

Fiscal monitoring with focus on the budget

What next?

What next?

Each one , in its specific role contributes to the construction of this process.