Technical Meeting on Guidance on Preparing for and Conducting Regulatory Reviews and Assessments of Geological Disposal Programmes

Virtual Event

9 to 13 November 2020

Ref. No.: EVT1907084

Information Sheet

A. Introduction

The on-going International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) project entitled ‘Regulatory Preparedness for Geological Disposal’ is focusing on the role of the regulatory body and how it needs to be properly prepared for the task of competently regulating the various activities included in a geological disposal programme for radioactive waste and spent fuel.

The project is providing a forum mainly for staff from nuclear or radiation protection regulatory bodies involved in preparing for, and undertaking regulatory reviews and assessments of, geological disposal programmes.

Drafting the guidance document on how a regulatory body needs to be properly prepared for regulating the various activities included in a geological disposal programme for radioactive waste and spent fuel is on-going taking into account the results of previous Technical Meetings held in November 2017 and April 2018.

B. Objectives

The purpose of the event is to assist regulatory bodies in the development of the draft guidance on preparing for and conducting regulatory reviews and assessments of geological disposal programmes.

The meeting will contribute to the following specific objectives:

- Share information and learn from other geological disposal programmes.
- Discuss and develop an understanding of the evolution of the roles and oversight of the regulatory body through the development and implementation of geological disposal programmes.
- Discuss the competencies needed within the regulatory body in order to act as an independent and credible authority throughout all the stages of a geological disposal programme.
- Discuss how to address the early interaction between the regulatory body and the prospective licensee in preparation for the initial licensing stage (e.g. pre-licensing).
- Discuss the regulatory judgments and decisions in the presence of uncertainties, particularly in initial licensing decisions.

C. Target Audience

The end-users for the project comprise regulatory bodies, government representatives, policymakers, and waste management organizations responsible for the development and implementation of geological disposal facilities. The IAEA would appreciate the designation of participants who are already involved in activities of the ‘Regulatory Preparedness for Geological Disposal’ project. Member States are strongly encouraged to identify suitable women participants.

D. Working Language(s)

English

E. Participation and Registration

In order to be designated by an IAEA Member State, participants are requested to send the Participation Form (Form A) to their competent national authority (e.g. Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Permanent Mission to the IAEA or National Atomic Energy Authority) for onward transmission to the IAEA by 28 October 2020. Participants who are members of an organization invited to attend are requested to send the Participation Form (Form A) through their organization to the IAEA by above deadline.

Selected participants will be informed in due course on the procedures to be followed with regard to administrative and technical matters.

The abstract should be in A4 page format, should extend to no more than 2 pages (including figures and tables) It should be sent electronically to Armin Lagumdzija, the Scientific Secretary of the event (see contact details below), not later than Submission Deadline.

In addition, participants have to submit the abstract together with the Participation Form (Form A) and the attached Form for Submission of a Paper (Form B) to their competent national authority (e.g. Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Permanent Mission to the IAEA or National Atomic Energy Authority) or their organization for onward transmission to the IAEA not later than Submission Deadline
